2. Workshop Series on Innovations in Science (1st event is tomorrow!)

Dear Colleagues,

I want to alert you to an outstanding opportunity to learn and connect with science and business colleagues through a new workshop series on innovations in science; The first of which is scheduled from 5–7pm on Thursday, May 7, 2009 at the Quadrangle Club.

The featured speaker is Steve Lazarus, co-founder and managing director of ARCH Venture Partners, who will give a presentation entitled “Discovery Matters.” Dr. Maryellen Giger will join Steve during the Q&A to share her personal involvement in the founding of R2 Technologies.

The series is sponsored by the University of Chicago Technology Transfer office, the Booth School of Business, and the Polsky Center for Entrepreneurship.

The invitation can be found in the link below and participation and attendance at the first event requires an RSVP. Feel free to distribute, they are looking to integrate as much of the U of C as possible.

Best Regards,
Mike Seiler

3. Learn about Careers at McKinsey and Company

McKinsey & Company, a management consulting firm with nearly 8,500 consultants in 89 offices across 50 countries, is hosting two exciting summer programs for students working towards advanced professional degrees: Insight 2009 and Insight Asia. These programs will give non-MBA advanced degree students an insider's look into management consulting. Each of the comprehensive seminars will cover a range of topics important to those who are exploring alternative career possibilities. Program agendas include an overview of management consulting, an introduction to the type of work we do, a management consulting case study, and an opportunity to interact and network with colleagues and participate in social activities. Both programs will be co-hosted on the same weekend in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

We are hosting several web based presentations to help graduate students learn more about McKinsey & Company and our Insight programs. These presentations are designed for: MDs, Residents, Medical Interns, Fellows PhDs, Post-docs and non-MBA Masters students*.

If you are interested in attending one of these presentations please RSVP through our website:

6. Job Posting: Assistant Professor, University of Pittsburgh Cancer Institute (UPCI)

Assistant Professor, University of Pittsburgh Cancer Institute

The University of Pittsburgh Cancer Institute (UPCI) and the Department of Pathology, University of Pittsburgh seek a suitable candidate for tenure tract position at the Assistant Professor level. The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. degree with an active laboratory research program and an established track record of independent peer-reviewed funding and publication in high-impact journals. The incumbent will be expected to develop original, competitive, and independently funded research program. We are particularly interested in candidates working in the specific area of role DNA damage signaling and apoptosis in regulating intestinal stem cell survivals and renewal in cancer and tissue injury models. Develop strategies based on such mechanisms to selectively protect normal tissues at the stem cell levels from radiotherapy and chemotherapy-induced damage. A tract record of collaboration and interaction with other broad discipline or programs is highly preferred.

The incumbent will have the opportunity to mentor graduate students through the Department of Pathology and UPSOM Integrated Biomedical Graduate Program and will have progressive involvement in the teaching of graduate and medical students. The UPCI is among the top ten NCI-funded and NCI-designated Comprehensive Cancer Centers located within the academic environment of the University of Pittsburgh and University of Pittsburgh Medical Center and has an active and highly interactive community of basic, translational and clinical research scientists. Salary and benefits will be commensurate with experience.

Interested candidates should send curriculum vitae, brief description of research interests and contact information for three references to:
